NEWS FROM RIO JANEIRO.

HOPEFULLY IMPORTANT (Special Standard Correspondent.) Rio, November 17th, 1866. A tragical occurrence took place on the night of the 6th inst., and has been the chief topic of public conversation ever since...

Dr. Miguel de Corqueira Lima, Municipal Judge in the District of Nova Friburgo, and for the present residing on leave of absence in Rio, discharged five barrels of his revolver at his wife, who fell dangerously wounded by four of the bullets.

The husband then rushed out into the street with the revolver still in his hand but was in a few moments arrested and taken to the police station. Here, with the greatest calmness he denied having fired the pistol...

These declarations, made with an incredible amount of coolness and apparent ignorance of the act committed, together with the actions of Dr. Cerqueira Lima for several months past (who is laboring under a monomania that his life is in constant danger from several persons who wish to assassinate him)...

The unfortunate lady was at once attended by medical men, and some of the bullets were extracted immediately, after which she was taken to the house of her brother-in-law, where she still lies in a most precarious state...

Dr. Cerqueira Lima had only been married about eleven months, and, after a separation of about five months, this lady had only some five days previous to this occurrence rejoined her husband. They have a child about one month old.

Scarcely had the public mind recovered from the first shock produced by the occurrence just related, when another tragedy, perhaps even more sad than the first, came to attract their attention: At about half-past seven o'clock on the night of the 6th inst., Dr. José Mariano da Silva, Surgeon-in-Chief to the Police Force of Rio, presented himself at the Police Barracks and gave himself up to the Staff Officer on duty as a prisoner in consequence of having just killed his wife!

The cause of this act appears to have been jealousy. The lady was only eighteen years of age and very handsome, and it seems that the doctor, having his suspicions aroused by some means, commenced examining the servants and other persons comprising his household, and in consequence of what he heard, took his case of instruments from his pocket and, extracting a lancet, seized his wife and, in a moment divided with this instrument the carotid arteries, so that death ensued in a few minutes.

The Conselheiro Sergio Teixeira de Macedo has been appointed by the Brazilian Government as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the Court of France.

The exhibition still continues to attract a great number of visitors; and the total number of persons who have visited this building since the day of its inauguration up to the present time (16th November) is 25,578.

Great dissatisfaction has arisen on all sides in consequence of the distribution and rewards to the Officers and soldiers of the Army, the Volunteers and the National Guard. The general cry is that of the army and volunteers at the seat of war, those who had never smelt powder got the rewards, while those who had exposed their lives in action were overlooked.

The National Guard complains that while those who left their homes and families to defend their country have received no recognition of their services; those who remained behind and who never unsheathed sword or fired a cartridge except on gala-days or accompanying a procession, have been honored with decorations and other rewards for important services during the war.

By an imperial decree dated 7th inst., Dr. John Leslie has been made a Cavalheiro of the order of the Rose, for important services performed during the war with Paraguay.

HOPEFULLY IMPORTANT.

By an imperial decree of the 8th inst., Dr. José Mariano da Silva, who assassinated his wife on the 6th, was "exonerated" from the post of surgeon-in-chief to the police force.

The Brazilian Government is sending a vessel of war to verify the existence and true position of the rock discovered by Capt. Colatino Marques de Souza, of the steam transport Principe de Joinville. The position given by Capt. de Souza is lat. 32° 51' 32" S., and long. 53° 51' 8" W. of Paris, about 4 feet out of the water in a smooth sea.

The daily papers are full of advertisements for substitutes in the national guards chosen to join the army in Paraguay; as much as 900 parts, has been offered for first-class substitutes.

The Government is using every means to raise fresh levies of men to reinforce the army in Paraguay, but this is now no easy job: in Rio, where the Government is strong, it became necessary to put the battalions into barracks before designating the men who were to march; so that in the provinces and in the interior it will, in all probability, be very difficult to complete the number ordered from each district by the late imperial decree calling for 10,000 men.

The Government has also ordered the immediate construction of some small iron-clad gunboats, which are especially adapted to river navigation.

Two small steamers—the Cecilia, of 65 tons, and the Theresa, of 49 tons—sailed from this for the River Plate on the 12th inst.

By a special decree of the 7th inst., the Emperor has opened a 'credito extraordinario' of Rs. 2,604,416$53, for the working expenses of the D. Pedro II. Railway during the financial year of 1866-7, as it is now worked by Government, in accordance with the contract made under date of 26th July, 1865.

Some large frauds have lately been discovered in our custom-house, and several employes have in consequence been dismissed, and entry to the custom-house prohibited to the importers who appear implicated in the affair. A commission of enquiry has been appointed by the Government, and is now occupied in thoroughly sifting the suspicious cases.

His Majesty the Emperor has freed 190 of his slaves, and sent them to join the army as soldiers of the line.

A great many blacks and mulattos are now obtaining their freedom by consenting to go as soldiers: they are inspected by medical men, and if found fit for service are bought by such of the national guards as can afford to pay for substitutes, and so free themselves from marching when chosen.

The steam transport Petropolis has changed hands, and will in future be called the Texeira de Freitas.

Dr. José Mariano da Silva, who assassinated his wife as before related, has since become completely insane, and is now an inmate of the D. Pedro II. Lunatic Asylum.

On the 6th of October a small steamer, named the Augusto, 3 tons, sailed from Bristol for Pernambuco, where it is to be employed in river navigation, and was ordered by the Baron de Livramento. With the exception of the Red, White and Blue, of 2½ tons, which lately crossed the Atlantic from New York to Margate, no vessel so small has ever attempted so long a voyage; at any rate, there is no precedent of a steamer of such diminutive dimensions having attempted the trip from Europe to South America.

The crew of the Augusto consists of Capt. Dersick, one sailor, one engineer, one fireman, and a Newfoundland dog.

The National Exhibition is to close on the 2nd of December next, and probably with the same formalities as on its inauguration, as the day chosen is the Emperor's birthday.

On the 15th, in the saloons of the Club Fluminense, Lieut.-Colonel F. M. Guimaraes Peizoto, so justly noted for his bravery at Paysandú, and in every attack since the war broke out, received a splendid ovation.

The banquet was presided over by the Cons. Parnaguá, the present Minister of War, and the gallant Lieut.-Colonel was seated at his side, his decorations and scars plainly showing that he had taken a prominent part in many feats of arms.

The first toast was proposed by Dr. Thomaz Alves, who congratulated the hero of Paysandú, Corrientes, Riachuelo, and Tuyuty, on his good fortune in having been able to make a trip to his native country to regain his health, and receive such an ovation as the present one, and putting on the head of the youthful soldier a crown of laurels, wished him long life and prosperity.

The Cons. Parnaguá, then in the name of the Government, thanked the promoters of the feast, and added a few words of enthusiasm to the same toast.

The following toasts were proposed: The Cons. Parnabos and Octaviano; Barou de Porto Alegre, Baron de St. Gabriel, Baron de Herval, and Gen. Polidoro. The Minister of War, again rising, proposed the toast of—'Generals Mitre and Flores, the Allies of Brazil,' which was received with great enthusiasm. Vivas were then given for the prime citizen of Brazil, and the war with Paraguay.

THE CHIEF OF THE VOLUNTEERS.

The perpetual defender of the empire, Dom Pedro II., and the "reunion" broke up amid shouts of "viva" and the sounds of the National Hymn.

In political circles in Rio there has been a good deal said relative to the part taken by the province of Minas Gerades in furnishing soldiers for the war, and complaints were rife that this department had not done as much in proportion as the other provinces of the empire.

The President of the province, Sr. J. Saldanha Maranhão, therefore issued on the 6th inst. a most stirring proclamation to the 'Mineiros'; and subsequently the Bishop of Marlianna and the Provincial Assembly likewise issued proclamations, calling the population of Minas Gerades to arms.

The steamers San Miguel and Imperatriz, which have for some time back been serving as transports, are advertised for sale, by public auction, on the 21st inst.

By the contract of the 11th March, 1851, the Imperial Government guaranteed to the Gas Company an exchange of 27d. per milreis, but now, owing to the sundry financial disturbances, the rate has for some time been far below the figure guaranteed, and consequently the amount set apart in the Budget from 1865 to 1866, for 'public illuminations,' is by a long way exceeded; consequently, to provide for this deficit, the Emperor issued on the 10th inst. a decree opening a 'credito extraordinario,' for the amount of R2,768$900 to meet the necessary payments.

These numerous 'creditos extraordinarios' now being opened, some to cover losses by exchange, some to meet the working expenses of a railway, which is not paying; others to provide for expenses which in the drawing up of the Budget were not contemplated, show very plainly that when by and by accounts are squared up, and the direct and indirect expenditure of the empire in prosecuting this war summed up, there will appear an amount so large as almost to become incredible to the unfortunate people who will have to pay it in taxes.

At present no new taxes have been imposed, although the law authorising the Government to levy them has passed the Chambers, so that the deficit at the end of the financial year 1866-67, will be something tremendous. In the collection of direct taxes some difficulty is to be apprehended; an income tax, a property tax, or a capitation tax, are all pretty easily collectable in cities, or even in towns, but when they are demanded in the interior the task of collection will be very difficult, as it is known by experience, for the calling of a tax-gatherer is no enviable one in some parts of England, even in the present day.

I have taken advantage of the departure to-day of the steam transport, San José, to forward this, and shall send you my next per Carmel.

I remain, Gentlemen, Yours truly, CABRAL.

LATEST FROM RIO.

FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

Rio de Janeiro, Nov. 22, 1866. To the Editors of the Standard, Gentlemen.

I last wrote you by the steam transport Galgo, under date of the 20th inst., under cover to your respected agents at Montevideo, and requesting them to forward the letter on by first opportunity, as it contained the latest advices from Europe and the United States.

A heavy thunderstorm which broke over Rio on the night of the 20th inst. prevented the 'debut' of the Scotch bell-ringers and Spanish ballet corps, at our Theatre Lyrique: the said performance is now advertised to take place to-night.

Business here continues in a wretched state: a great many of the parties who, at the great crisis of '64, when South and other bankers stopped payment, made compositions with their creditors, have been unable to comply with the obligations they then undertook, and have come to a second standstill. The reason assigned by all in their petitions of bankruptcy is the impossibility of collecting outstanding accounts, in consequence of business having got worse rather than better, as was hoped.

Sovereigns are quoted at 9,900; exchange on London 24d. for bankers' drafts, and 24½d. to 25d. for private bills, on Paris 395 to 398 per franc, and on Hamburg 745 to 650; Brazilian 6 per cent stock 89½ to 90. Sugar in bags 2,750 to 2,900 per arr.

Another line of transatlantic steamers is forming in Hamburg: the capital is to be 1,750,000 thalers, in shares of 500 thalers each, and to commence operations by the purchase of 7 steamers, of about 1,200 tons burthen and 220 horse-power each, to trade between Hamburg, Mexico, West Indies, and South America.

During the heavy thunderstorm of the 20th a thunderbolt fell into the house of Sr. Servalvo Jose Pereira, residing in Rua do Ypiranga, the picturesque suburb of Lavangeiras. The family were all seated round a table, and fortunately escaped without harm, but the lightning cut the
